THE MEDICO LEGAL EXPERTISE

In today's scenario any fault or mistake or due to any misunderstanding also if there is any problem by any medical practitioner, it becomes unacceptable. And if it occurs, it may drag the physician in the court of law-both civil and criminal. Incidence wise, it is the medical practitioners who are made targets by the many sections of society.

This, amongst medical practitioners has precipitated a wide-spread fear and it is hotly debated topic. This, in our opinion, is primarily because of the doctor's ignorance of the legalities related to medical negligence. Secondly, it is because the legal fraternity is not able to understand the intricacies of medical science. When both these facts are simultaneously present, defending a doctor becomes difficult. To add to this, many times the issues involved are so complicated that the courts, commissions and the forums may need ample assistance from the bar to explain the complexities of the procedures undertaken and the problems in hand.

This requires a very knowledgeable person, knowledgeable both in medicine and law, to plead the doctor's case. Today medical law has become a specialty in self. In the court, ignorance is not bliss. It may finally end with the physician paying lacs of rupees as compensation. This ignorance of law is no excuse.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN INSURANCE AND RISK MANAGEMENT

The major difference lies in the scope of policies and in India there is a single indemnity policy by the insurance companies from last 25 years or more than that. Isn't it right to say that when these policies were invented the medical scenario was quite different from today? Today after modernization, advancement, more legal acts, the situation and scenario is completely changed but their policies are still running in the same vein. They cover the civil or consumer case only but today more than that it is required that there should be an expert body to help on various companies for its maintenance. You normally pay annual charges but have you ever thought that if they are not competent in maintaining the same you may land up in a big problem. Our service charge includes the AMC of each and every item of your setup.

Medicine is a science of uncertainty & art of probability – Sir William Osler.

Medicine is an inexact science which deals with many biological variables that are beyond once control. Consequently in spite of the best treatment & care, a patient may die or his condition may become worse.

Unfortunately for all kinds of unexpected or unwanted results, patient believes that it is due to negligence of doctor & then the common tendency is either to make physical assaults on doctor or to destroy the property of the clinic / hospital and to drag him in the court of law. Especially after the medical profession was brought under the per view of the consumer protection act, the cases against the doctors have been piling up like anything. In-fact the patient should have realistic expectations of what the doctors can do for them, but unfortunately it never happens & the ultimate victim is the doctor. Medical professionals are also prone to legal action under various acts like MTP ACT, PCPNDT ACT, organ transplantation act, Indian penal code, civil procedure court, criminal procedure court, environmental safety issue, bio medical waste management act, statutory compliance so as on & so forth.

No one can be the master of all trades so here the need outstanding arises.

Doctors are no more being treated as gods or demigod's, but merely a professional and the peoples expect from them the best of their work every time

Every patient is a potent complainant. Our government has certainly provided an inexpensive fast tract way to seek redress for the patient in the form of consumer courts. The law would not allow the medical profession to play God.
